The Data Manager will process the personal data of the Data Subject from the time they are transferred / provided until 10 days after the GS HUNGARY 2022 – with a special regard to the follow-up in case of COVID-19 infection – provided that the competent authority does not call on the Data Manager to preserve the personal data for another specified period.

4.2. The Data Subject may revoke their consent statement at any time, without any limitation or justification, free of charge, in which case his or her personal data will be deleted immediately, provided that the Organizer does not have another valid legal title for managing data. Withdrawal of consent shall not affect the lawfulness of the data management prior to the withdrawal.

5. Data transmission

The Organizer shall only transfer the data of the Data Subject to a third party in the following cases:

- a) if the data transmission is required by the law, furthermore, if a court, an authority or other body - as the recipient of the data transmission - delivers its official request to the Organizer (including, in particular, the following cases: management of the result of the COVID test, in case of a positive result, its report, possibly forwarding to the national security service for national security purposes);
- b) the Data Subject has given their express consent to the data transmission, and the recipient of the data transmission is a person with a legal relationship with the Organizer (e.g.: hotel, transportation company, etc.).

6. Rights of Data Subjects

a) Right to receive information

The Data Subject may request information from the Organizer free of charge about the personal data stored by the Organizer. This means that the Data Subject is authorized to receive feedback from the Organizer as to whether or not the management of his or her personal data is in progress, and, if such data management is in progress, the Data Subject is authorized to get access to his or her personal data and the following information:

- the purpose of data management related to the personal data;
- categories of personal data affected;
- recipients or the categories of recipients to whom or to which the personal data were or will be communicated;
- the planned duration of the storage of personal data, or if this is not possible, the aspects for determining this period;
- the right of the Data Subject to request the rectification or erasure of the personal data relevant to him or her or to restrict the management of the data, and the Data Subject may object to the management of his or her personal data;
- the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority;
- if the data have not been collected from the Data Subject, all the available information on their source;
- in case of automated decision-making mentioned in Article 22 Paragraph (1) and (4) of the GDPR, including also profiling, the comprehensible information relevant to the logics applied in these cases and to the significance of such data management and what are the likely consequences for the Data Subject.

b) Right to rectification

The Data Subject shall have the right, upon his or her request, to have inaccurate personal data concerning him or her rectified by the Organizer without undue delay. Taking into account the purpose of data management, the Data Subject is authorized to request that incomplete personal data be supplemented, inter alia, by means of a supplementary declaration.

c) Right to data erasure

The Data Subject shall have the right, at his or her request, to request the erasure of his or her personal data from the Organizer without undue delay if any of the following reasons exists:

- the personal data are no longer necessary for the purposes for which they were collected or otherwise processed;
- the Data Subject withdraws consent on which the processing is based under Article 6 Paragraph (1) a) or Article 9 Paragraph (2) a) of the GDPR, and if there is no other legal basis for the data management;
- the Data Subject objects to the management of his or her data according to Article 21 Paragraph (1) of the GDPR, and there is no priority legitimate reason for the data management, or of you object to data management on the basis of Article 21 Paragraph (2) of the GDPR;
- the personal data have been unlawfully processed;
- the deletion of personal data is required to fulfill a legal obligation;
- the personal data have been collected in connection with the provision of information society services under Article 8 Paragraph (1) of the GDPR.

Where the Organizer has made the personal data of the Data Subject public and is obliged to erase such personal data, the Organizer, taking account of available technology and the cost of implementation, shall take reasonable steps to inform third persons who are processing the personal data of the Data Subject that the Data Subject has requested us to delete any links to, or copy or replication of, the personal data in question.

d) The right to restrict processing

The Data Subject is authorized to request us to restrict the processing of their personal data if any of the following criteria occurs:

If the restriction requested by the Data Subject is lifted, the Organizer will inform the Data Subject thereof in advance.

e) Right to data portability

The Data Subject shall have the right to receive the personal data concerning him or her, which he or she has provided to the Organizer, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and have the right to transmit those data to another data manager without hindrance from the Organizer to which the personal data have been provided, where:

- data management is based on consent given according to point Article 6 Paragraph (1) a) or Article 9 Paragraph (2) a) of the GDPR, or is based on a contract pursuant to Article 6 Paragraph (1) b) of the GDPR, and
- data management takes place in an automated way.

In exercising his or her right to data portability, the Data Subject shall have the right to have the personal data transmitted directly from one data manager to another, where technically feasible.

f) The right to object

Under Article 21 Paragraph (1) of the GDPR, the Data Subject may at any time object to the processing of his or her personal data for the purpose of data management according to Article 6 Paragraph (1) f) of the GDPR as described in this Privacy Information Note.

If the Data Subject objects to the management of his or her personal data, the Organizer may not continue to process the personal data of the Data Subject, except where the Organizer demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the data management which override the interests, rights, and freedoms of the Data Subject, or are needed for the establishment, enforcement or defence of legal claims.

7. Enforcement of the rights of the Data Subject

7.1. If the Data Subject wishes to exercise their rights listed in Article 6, i.e. if he or she requests information, wishes to access his or her personal data stored by the Organizer, to rectify or delete their personal data managed by the Organizer, or restrict the data management or object against it, he or she shall make a request to that effect in writing, electronically or by post.

7.2. The Organizer shall provide the information requested by the Data Subject in writing (by post or e-mail) to the Data Subject without undue delay, but no later than within 30 days of receipt of the request. If necessary, taking into account the complexity of the request and the number of requests, this deadline may be extended by another 60 days, of which the Organizer shall inform the Data Subject in writing (by postal mail or electronic mail) within 30 days of receipt of the Data Subject's request.

7.3. If the Data Subject has submitted his or her request electronically, the Organizer shall provide the information primarily by electronic means, unless the Data Subject requests otherwise or this is impossible due to the extent of the requested information.

7.4. If the Data Subject so requests, the information may also be provided verbally, provided that the Data Subject has duly demonstrated his or her personal identity.

7.5. The Organizer shall provide the information or the requested information and measures free of charge; however, if the request is manifestly unfounded or excessive, in particular because of its repetitive character, the Organizer may either charge a reasonable fee taking into account the administrative costs of providing the information or notification, or taking the action requested; or may refuse to take action based on the request.
